excellent results. While it necessarily requires more work to finish a hand-painted portrait of this nature, the offer holds good, and you will be mightily well pleased with this part of the bargain.

Our portraits are speaking likenesses, with all the richness and softness of seldom-seen photography. This is due to our method of taking them by soft, diffused, artificial light, and to the fact that our operators are something more than mere photographers: THEY ARE ARTISTS.

A satisfied customer is our biggest asset. Our money-back guarantee stands behind every portrait made.

The Fall Season of 1915, closing Tuesday next, has been very good to me.

COLE styles have evidently taken a conspicuous and permanent place in the world of fashion.

This is very encouraging, as well as gratifying.

There may be some ladies not altogether satisfied with suits they have bought, because they are not COLE Tailored Suits.

If so, I am ready to make suits to their order which will give them first position in the fashion line seen on Fifth Avenue daily.
